

Questions For Discussion

- Give an example of a rule you have made for yourself, or that others have made for you, that makes you feel good and better about yourself when you keep it, but depressed when you inevitably break it.
- In what ways do you feel self-righteous about your rules, whether they are religious or not?
- Does following those rules allow you to genuinely love other people? How might our application of a rule hinder us from loving people the way Christ taught us to love others?
- Out of the three ways to be legalistic, which way do you think you struggle with most? 1) Justification by Works, 2) Adding to the Law, 3) The Loophole.
- When I asked, how do you picture the look on God's face when he thinks of you, what first came to your mind?
- How can the gospel of Jesus encourage us that I'm ok in Jesus and how can that free us from legalism.

Questions for Discussion

- Give an example of a rule you have made for yourself, or that others have made for you, that makes you feel good and better about yourself when you keep it, but depressed when you inevitably break it.
- In what ways do you feel self-righteous about your rules, whether they are religious or not?
- Does following those rules allow you to genuinely love other people? How might our application of a rule hinder us from loving people the way Christ taught us to love others?
- Out of the three ways to be legalistic, which way do you think you struggle with most? 1) Justification by Works, 2) Adding to the Law, 3) The Loophole.
- When I asked, how do you picture the look on God's face when he thinks of you, what first came to your mind?
- How can the gospel of Jesus encourage us that I'm ok in Jesus and how can that free us from legalism.